

Resolution from the 3rd APGF Congress in NZ

Number: 4 (FINAL)

Short title	APGF opposes the security bills of Japan to strengthen solidarity among the citizens aspiring for peace
Proposed Resolution Text (about 3 points)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Japanese government is trying to radically change the long-lasting peace constitution and policies right now, submitting a series of so-called “peace and security bills” to the national assembly which make it possible for Japanese army to take military action in foreign wars. We are concerned that Japan is rushing to militarism and expansionism in a nationalistic way. 2. The constitution of Japan and its peace policies have functioned as a device for peace in our region. We must keep it not only for the Japanese people but also all the people in the Asia Pacific region. 3. We must stop this tendency by cooperating together with Japanese people who aspire peace.

Action to be taken from the resolution	Each member parties to send official messages encouraged by thousands of civil opinions with signatures to oppose a series of so-called “Peace and Security Bills” of Japan to Japanese Embassy in each country. Encourage and take coincidental actions with Japanese civil society against Abe administration’s acceleration to militarism.
Any policy background & reason for the resolution	This series of “reforms” will make our region more dangerous in terms of peace and security, ironically named as such, and it is not the problem only for Japan but also surrounding countries as victims in the future.
